PLAY IT SMART

The turn towards smartness this season – which we focused on in our tailoring shoot in the October issue of this magazine – is playing out in London-based furniture-maker Sedilia's Pylon collection – which includes a sofa, armchair and daybed with angled, square-armed silhouettes. Pictured here in Pierre Frey's Igor Chenille in Lichen and Olive, it's a range that offers an understated but very luxe approach to this elegant look. Prices from £11,136

FINISH LINE

Add some serious pizzazz to your cabinets with Bias Editions' line of handles, featuring its iconic Wiggle pattern, as well as other fun shapes like the Zig Zag. Hand-cast Zig Zag collection in Blackened Brass, from £30, Bias Editions

COSY UNDERFOOT

Exciting news in the rug world: NYC's Ward + Gray now offers shipping to the UK with the launch of the brand's latest collection, The Blues. That means you can also get your hands on the debut launch, The Cosmos, from last year – we've had our eye on the Dune rug, with its raised abstract pattern, for some time. Love. Dune rug, £8,053.54 for 9x12ft, Ward + Gray

HELP YOURSELF

When we asked Skye McAlpine for her tips on hosting at Christmas last year, she told us she loved to serve sweets – dates stuffed with walnuts, candied peels, gold coins – in bowls for people to snack on. We can't think of a better way to present them than in this beauty. Murano bowl, £145, The Edition 94 ►
