

New Waterside Retreats for Those Lazy Days of Summer

From the Hamptons to Majorca, here are six getaways that invite you to eat, drink, lounge and enjoy idyllic surroundings.

Share full article

66

In Spain, the Mandarin Oriental Punta Negra, Majorca overlooks the Bay of Palma. Mandarin Oriental

By Stephanie Rosenbloom
May 25, 2026

It's that time of year when thoughts turn to sunny, lazy days by the water. Whether you are longing for an ocean beach or a grassy riverbank, here are new properties to consider, including laid-back retreats in the Hamptons; a chic hotel on the harbor in Charleston, S.C.; and luxurious resorts in Portugal and Majorca — just in time to plan a summer getaway.

MONTAUK, N.Y. Hotel Corduroy

The retro Hotel Corduroy in Montauk, N.Y., has 29 rooms and suites, 60s- and 70s-style furnishings, and is convenient to both bay and Atlantic Ocean beaches. Vault Kowley

More than 40 years old, the Sunset Montauk, about a 10-minute drive from the Montauk Point Lighthouse, has been reimagined for a new generation. Drawing inspiration from the area's surf culture, it is now the 29-room-and-suite boutique Hotel Corduroy with a retro, breezy atmosphere. Step into the lobby and you'll find a Swedish armchair upholstered in a kilim rug, lighting from the 1970s and a large photograph of a surfer.

Rooms are spread across three buildings with 1960s-style furniture, including reeded bamboo bedside tables, and other nods to the past, like vintage cassette players. Choose from tapes in the lobby with music by Willie Nelson, Steely Dan, Neil Young, Dolly Parton and the Cars. Ward + Gray worked on the hotel's interior design. Outside, the bay is almost at your doorstep.

It's a short drive to the village of Montauk and to Ditch Plains Beach on the Atlantic; a 10-to-15-minute drive brings you to Montauk Point State Park and Camp Hero State Park. The property offers guests access to a private area on Sunset Beach (from June through mid-September), as well as bikes. You can play cornhole and bocce on the lawn, or laze on a sofa or a lounge chair. Rates from $850 a night in June, and from $995 in July and August. Dog-friendly rooms are available for $75 a night per dog.